@FBI @FBIDirectorKash @ADL @RAND,

🚨PRO TIP: If you have an issue with WHITE, NON-JEW AMERICANS AND CHRISTIANS like ME opposing BOLSHEVIK REVOLUTION 2… aka, the ATTEMPTED GENOCIDE OF WHITE AMERICANS and HOSTILE TAKEOVER OF AMERICA by FOREIGN ENEMIES, that's currently happening in the UNITED STATES via collusion between the CIA, NSA, FBI, DHS and ISRAELI AND BRITISH INTELLIGENCE AGENCIES AND MILITARY PERSONNEL, then come see ME.

Let's talk about it FACE-TO-FACE. I trust you still know where I live since your last visit.

And if you really ARE about upholding your oaths to DEFEND THE U.S. CONSTITUTION, as opposed to being "BROWN SHIRTS" for these ANTI-AMERICAN "Global Jewry" infil-traitors that Solzhenitsyn described, then I'd WELCOME such a conversation.

Do you?

If so, WHY TF are you showing up at the HOMES of my FRIENDS asking THEM to come down to the FBI FIELD OFFICE to discuss "INTERNET THREATS"?

Did you expect us, the WHITE, CHRISTIAN AMERICANS whose ANCESTORS FOUNDED THIS COUNTRY, to just SIT QUIETLY while ISRAELI/BRITISH/UKRAINIAN/GLOBAL JEWRY TERRORISTS attempt to STEAL OUR COUNTRY and EXTERMINATE OUR RACE?

Was that REALLY your logical thought process?

The U.S. Constitution mandates AMERICAN CITIZENS not only have a RIGHT to oppose such hostile measures against Americans, we have the OBLIGATION to oppose it… and use DEADLY FORCE if necessary, should all peaceful means of recourse be exhausted.

And unfortunately for YOU, we BOTH know I have ALL the receipts of your DIRECT INVOLVEMENT in that operation. And I SHARE THEM FOR ALL TO SEE… which is why you have your dutiful little UNIT 8200 HALL MONITORS CONSTANTLY NUKING MY ACCOUNTS.

YOU. WILL. NOT. SILENCE. LAW-ABIDING. AMERICAN. PATRIOTS. AS. YOUR. TRY. TO. TAKE. EVERYTHING. FROM. THEM.

2. B'nai B'rith, or the Independent Order of the Sons of the Covenant

Israel Joseph Benjamin, a European Sephardic Jew, toured the U.S. in 1859-62. Benjamin (no relation to Judah Benjamin, although the two met) was part of a network of humanists associated with Alexander von Humboldt deployed to profile Jewish organizations in the U.S. In a book titled Three Yeas in America he described the B'nai B'rith as follows:

"This is a secret society, like the Freemasons, with passwords, signs, and the like . . . still I think that existence of such an organization is not at all necessary . . ."

The B'nai B'rith was officially founded in October 1843, as part of the Rothschild and British monarchy effort to establish what is today known as the Zionist movement. Founders of the B'nai B'rith, the Order of the Sons of the Covenant, in the U.S. were members of the financial heirarchy of the Rothschild circles, including the Seligmans and Dr. Kuttner Baruch from Charleston, S.C., the father of British agent Bernard Baruch. The elder Baruch was later responsible, along with Judah Benjamin, for setting up and financing the Ku Klux Klan.

The B'nai B'rith was ostensibly organized so that the Jews could have their own Freemason organization. But its real purpose was to provide the basis from which to finance the subversion of the U.S., and use the U.S. as a base for deploying these networks internationally to protect the Rothschild interests. There were over 44 Jewish organizations in the U.S. along which provided the Rothschilds their service.

A Devastating Insider's Portrait of the Mossad
From "The Other Side of Deception" (pg. 236) by Victor Ostrovsky. At the bottom you can see that he was surprised that people weren't more focused on the level of cooperation/coercion between the Mossad and Jewish communities worldwide.
I had to agree. We hashed over more subjects. It was important that we not include things in the book that might nurture anti-Semitism—at least, that was the way we saw it. We all agreed, for example, that the subject of testing medications on blacks in South Africa was too much and would strike too hard a blow against Israel, since the medical personnel who'd been sent to Africa would be associated with the state and not understood as being totally controlled by the Mossad. The same treatment was given to the direct links the Mossad had with the Kahane people, the Anti-Defamation League of the B'nai Brith, the AIPAC, and the UJA. The only subject that we decided needed airing was the Frames[6] and the youth camps called Hetz sa-keshet (meaning "bow and arrow"[7]) that the Mossad organizes to bring young Jewish kids to Israel for the summer. After filling the kids with a large dose of militant Zionism, the Mossad sends them back as the spies of the future.
They all agreed that I should include in the book all the names of case officers that I knew were burned. That meant people whose photos I saw in Egypt, in Jordan, and in the British embassy. Ephraim would make sure they weren't in the field when the book came out. Having their full names in the book would prevent them from working outside the country again, which was good for their own protection.
"So what do you think will be the book's biggest point?" asked Eli.
"If I had to choose one thing people will focus on, I'd say it will be the cooperation the Mossad gets all over the world from the Jewish community and the way it takes advantage of that trust." They all agreed with me. And we were all wrong.

Following the 1993 World Trade Center bombing, the New York Port Authority asks investigative and security consulting firm Kroll Associates to help design new security measures for the WTC. Brian Michael Jenkins was Kroll's Deputy Chairman, and he leads the analysis of future terrorist threats and how they might be addressed. Assessments conclude that a second terrorist attack against the WTC is probable. Although it is considered unlikely, the possibility of terrorists deliberately flying a plane into the WTC towers is included in the range of possible threats.[4]

Kevin Ryan writes that "For many years prior to 9/11, two Americans were in unique positions to originate and frame the national conversation about terrorism. Those same two people, Brian Michael Jenkins and L. Paul Bremer, played extraordinary roles related to aviation security and World Trade Center (WTC) security in the few years before the 9/11 attacks. Could Bremer and Jenkins have been front men for a program that hyped the threat of terrorism while at the same time manufactoring terrorist events for political purposes?"[5]

Ian Hersh is chief operating officer of the Israel on Campus Coalition. Previously, he worked for AIPAC and on Capitol Hill.
Miriam Elman is the executive director of Israel on Campus.
Controversies
Israel on Campus Coalition has been accused by left-of-center sources of links with the Israeli government. ProPublica and the left-wing Jewish magazine The Forward reported that the group had been found to be funding Facebook pages of non-existent student organizations in opposition to Palestinian-American poet Remi Kanazi. Facebook eventually removed the pages for violating policies against misrepresentation.
The ProPublica/Forward report also noted undercover video footage of Israel on Campus Coalition CEO Jacob Baime saying that the group's staff would "coordinate" or "communicate" with Israel's Ministry of Strategic Affairs.
In late 2023, the left-wing The Nation magazine alleged the Israel on Campus Coalition had "links to both Israeli intelligence and AIPAC," the acronym for American Israel Public Affairs Committee. The article accused the organization of collecting information on campuses and sending it back to the Israeli government and sharing information with the Anti-Defamation League (ADL), a left-of-center Jewish interest group."
The Nation article cited an undercover story from a documentary on Qatari state-backed media outlet Al Jazeera in which Baime was secretly recorded saying, "We built up this massive national political campaign to crush them," referring to pro-Palestinian or anti-Israel protesters on college campuses.

In Tribute to Roy M. Cohn
B'nai B'rith Banking and Finance Lodge takes special pride in according this well-deserved public tribute to Roy M. Cohn at its annual State of Israel Bond dinner. In public life, he has been a tenacious champion of Israel's right to exist in peace and security and of American economic political support for the beleaguered Jewish nation. And in private life, he has demonstrated an equally deep-rooted commitment of purpose on behalf of his fellow man that magnificently reflects the humanitarian ideals which have sustained B'nai B'rith over the past 140 years.
Mr. Cohn is one of the country's best-known attorneys. He is the senior member of the law firm of Saxe, Bacon and Bolan. Moreover, the same abounding energies are readily evident in his participation in a broad spectrum of communal, educational and philanthropic endeavors. He has served as adjunct professor at New York Law School, a regent for more than two decades of St. Francis College, special projects director of the Humane Society of New York, president of the American Jewish League Against Communism, a director of the Hebrew Home for the Aged in Riverdale and chairman of P.A.C.E., an organization which supplies prisoners with art and music materials to help foster their rehabilitation. In addition, he has been honored for his efforts on their behalf by the Jewish National Fund and Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, is active in a project to build a nonsectarian athletic field in Jerusalem and is a longtime member of Banking and Finance Lodge of B'nai B'rith—continuing a tradition established by his father, Justice Albert Cohn, who was president of the organization's New York-New England district.
Mr. Cohn has had the opportunity to visit Israel many times and has seen first-hand how the infusion of Israel Bond investment capital has strengthened the industry, agriculture, commerce, energy resources and other important economic facets of our struggling sister democracy in the Middle East.
B'nai B'rith Banking and Finance Lodge is delighted to extend this heartfelt salute to so esteemed a member as Roy M. Cohn. And it calls upon his many friends and colleagues to join in honoring him in a manner he is certain to find most meaningful: by reaffirming their own commitment, through Israel Bonds, to fortify Israel's economic defenses.

White supremacist anti-left (or sinistrophobic) symbology especially targets far left and anarchist activists who have dedicated themselves to actively opposing and exposing white supremacists. In the 1990s and 2000s, for example, white supremacists created images that targeted anti-racist skinheads known as SHARPS (for "Skinheads Against Racial Prejudice"), such as placing a red circle and diagonal bar, or a gun sight, on top of an image of a Trojan helmet (a common SHARP symbol).

More recently, white supremacists have created similar imagery directed against antifa (short for anti-fascist), the loosely-organized left-wing and anarchist anti-racist movement. White supremacists have coined the term "anti-antifa"

"John Barsa is a principled conservative and an excellent choice to serve as the new leader of the U.S. Agency for International Development. In this new capacity, he can promote the president's agenda for aligning foreign aid with U.S. national interests.

"Prior this appointment, Barsa was confirmed by the Senate to lead the Latin America and Caribbean bureau at USAID where he worked to restore democracy in Cuba, Nicaragua, and Venezuela. The bureau also did critical development projects in Central, South America and the Caribbean. Before USAID, he served at the Department of Homeland Security and played a key role in the reconstruction efforts in Puerto Rico in aftermath of Hurricane Maria.

"The Heritage Foundation has worked closely with Barsa, and our teams are thrilled to see him step into this new role at USAID. We are grateful for Administrator Mark Green's leadership at USAID and look forward to continuing working with him in his new role at the McCain Institute."

Full article: Operation Timber Sycamore
"In December 2014, Henry Kravis created his own Intelligence agency, the KKR Global Institute. He nominated at its head the ex-Director of the CIA, General David Petraeus. With the Kravis couple's private funds (the KKR investment funds), and without referring to Congress, Petraeus pursued operation « Timber Sycamore » which had been initiated by President Barack Obama. This was the largest weapons traffic in history, implicating at least 17 states and representing many thousands of tons of weapons worth several billion dollars. As such, Kravis and Petraeus became the main suppliers for Daesh." Thierry Meyssan (2018)
